Math 501: Intro to Real Analysis
Homework 10

Aditya Balu

09-13-17

Problem

Call a metric space totally bounded if, for every $\epsilon > 0$, the metric space is the union of a finite number of closed balls of radius ϵ. Prove that a metric space is totally bounded if and only if every sequence has a Cauchy subsequence.

Solution